Alright, I shall greed

In the exhibition "Alright, I shall greed", Kiat-anan Eimchan discusses the hidden truth in today's modern life - the "Burden of Happiness."

Rama IX Art Museum Foundation

Whimsical yet surreal, Kiat-anan reflects on human's strive to obtain a so-called "happiness" by putting great efforts into expanding wealth and acquiring materials. He deploys symbolism technique to portray bustling human activities. The chaotic scenes are loosen up by his miniature cartoon-like people getting into the swing of different moods - some are wicked, some are disturbing, some are pure idiotic.

The sarcastic mocking of human behaviors in his painting is counter balanced by his sense of humor and colorful palette.
